

ALEX TEHRANI PHOTOGRAPHER

BASE: NYC, USA

Born in California in 1970 and in love with photography soon after, I've traveled the world making pictures of personal and political interest, warmly welcoming advertising and editorial commissions throughout; thankful each day that somehow a thriving creative industry has been built around the craft I'm crazy about.

I have 20 years of experience traveling the world photographing projects for editorial clients and print advertising campaigns for global brands, design firms, and advertising agencies.

Proud father of three children and we live between California and New York City, striving to see and learn something new each day.
